4.1.3 In the case of joint ownership, you hereby confirm that all owners (as they appear on the title deeds of the Property) will be named on the Tenancy Agreement and that, if signing on their behalf, this will be by way of a Power of Attorney created (as a deed).

4.2 Tenancy Agreements

4.2.1 Where instructed to prepare Tenancy Agreements, we can make limited amendments to confirm what has been agreed between you and the Tenant, usually by way of adding supplementary clauses. Where wider ranging changes to the main terms of the Tenancy Agreement are required, you should instruct a solicitor to prepare a bespoke Tenancy Agreement at your own expense.

4.2.2 Where you provide your own Tenancy Agreement, whilst able to pass it to the Tenant for signing, we are unable to comment on its suitability or to make amendments to it.

4.2.3 Where the Tenant provides his own Tenancy Agreement, we recommend that you seek advice from a solicitor. We are unable to comment on its suitability or to make amendments to it.

4.3 References

4.3.1 Where appropriate, references will be obtained on your behalf on prospective Tenants (including their right to reside in the UK) and their guarantors utilising the services of an independent referencing agency.

4.3.2 Reasonable care will be taken when instructing an independent referencing agency on your behalf and when accepting and passing documentation provided by the Tenant over to them, but we accept no liability for: any failure on the part of the independent referencing agency; the Tenant in misrepresenting their identity or failing to meet their obligations under the terms of the Tenancy, or for any breaches of the Immigration Act 2014 by you.

4.3.4 Our Fee includes the cost of referencing four (4) tenants or guarantors (maximum 4 separate references). Should a Tenant (or group of Tenants) fail referencing and a proposed tenancy not proceed then you will become liable for the cost of the references at £25 (inc VAT) per reference. However, if references fail on the basis of a Tenant(s) supplying deliberately misleading or fraudulent information then the cost for the references will be taken from the Tenants' Reservation Deposit.

YOUR LEGAL OBLIGATIONS AS LANDLORD

1.0 Energy Performance Certificate (EPC)

- 1.1 With the exception of listed buildings, you must ensure that an EPC is provided for any property which is to be advertised for let. It should be made available in good time for us to make it available to prospective tenants prior to their first viewing or to accompany written details of the Property. We accept no liability in connection with the EPC.
- 1.2 Where the Property is subject to a Green Deal, or other similar scheme, you must provide all necessary information to ensure the scheme requirements are complied with and we will not be responsible for complying with the conditions of the scheme.
- 1.3 Under The Energy Act 2011/ Energy Efficiency (Private Rented Property) (England & Wales) Regulations 2015, from April 2016 you will be unable to refuse the Tenant's reasonable request for consent to energy efficiency improvements where a finance package, such as The Green Deal, is available.

2.0 Houses in Multiple Occupation (HMOS) – Housing Act 2004

- 2.1 Your Property will require a mandatory licence if it comprises three or more storeys and has five or more occupiers who do not form one household and who share kitchen and bathroom facilities. It is your responsibility to obtain a licence and to comply with any conditions imposed by the local authority when granting it.
- 2.2 Local authorities can also enforce discretionary licencing and it is your responsibility to check whether your Property is subject to discretionary licencing. If the Property requires a licence it is your responsibility to acquire and pay for one and comply with its conditions.

3.0 The Gas Safety (Installation & Use) Regulations 1998

- 3.1 You are required to ensure that all gas appliances and installations are checked annually by a Gas Safe Register registered engineer and that the Tenant must be provided with a copy of the Gas Safe Record prior to commencement of the Tenancy and within 28 days of renewal of the Safety Record. Failure to comply is a criminal offence.
- 3.2 We recommend that you remove all portable gas appliances such as barbecues and patio heaters prior to commencement of the Tenancy. Where such appliances remain they should be tested by a specialist Gas Safe Register registered engineer and appear on a Gas Safety Record.

4.0 The Electrical Equipment (Safety Regulations) 1994

- 4.1 You are required to ensure that electrical appliances at the Property are maintained in good order, provided with instruction manuals and checked regularly. Appliances and electrical installations must be safe at all times.
- 4.2 We advise you to undertake an annual Portable Appliance Test if there any in the property

You are required by law to install working smoke and carbon monoxide alarms in their properties. Carbon monoxide alarms will be required in high risk rooms, such as those housing boilers, solid fuel heaters and stoves, with at least one smoke detector required on each floor. These should be tested by you on the first day of each Tenancy to ensure they are in full working order. Smoke and carbon monoxide alarms should be installed and replaced in accordance with manufacture guidelines and/or the replacement label on the alarm. This is usually every seven years for smoke alarms and five years for carbon monoxide alarms.

6.0 Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005

- 6.1 You are advised to undertake a fire risk assessment prior to the start of the Tenancy to systematically identify all fire related hazards and how they might pose danger to the Property and its Occupants.
- 6.2 We recommend as a minimum standard that you ensure safe passage from sleeping accommodation through the provision of interlinked smoke detectors along the escape route(s). These should be tested by you at the start of each Tenancy to ensure they are in full working order. Fire doors/ strips should be fitted where high risk rooms such as kitchens open onto an escape route. We also recommend the placement of a fire blanket and/or suitably classified extinguisher in the kitchen and other high risk areas.

7.0 The Furniture & Furnishings (Fire) (Safety) Regulations 1988 as amended 1993

- 7.1 It is a criminal offence to let a property with upholstered furniture which cannot be proven to comply with the safety regulations. In signing these Terms, you warrant that all furniture at the Property, together with any added by you during the Tenancy, complies with the safety regulations.

8.0 European Standards for Safety of Internal Window Blinds

The Standards affect any device used for internal blinds or curtain tracks. They apply to blinds which have cords or chains fitted with a hazardous loop that could create a hazard in premises where children aged between 0 and 42 months are likely to have access or be present. You should ensure that all cords and chains at the Property are checked and any that could create a hazard are replaced or fitted with a cleat or snap connector.

9.0 Water & Bacterial Control

- 9.1 You must ensure risk from exposure to legionella is properly controlled. Properties that remain empty, particularly during the warmer months, those with open cold water tanks and swimming pools/ hot tubs are particularly at risk.
- 9.2 We advise you to undertake a risk assessment prior to the start of the Tenancy and maintain a written record.

10.0 Fall Arrest Blocks – Eye Bolts

11.0 The Immigration Act 2014

11.1 You are obliged to establish that anyone living at the Property aged 18 or over has the right to rent in the UK through the provision of original documents confirming that right and for you to keep records for at least 12 months after the Tenancy has ended. Where a right to rent has a time limit you should make a careful record of this and ensure this is checked again once that time limit has ended or after 12 months, whichever is the later. Further information is available at www.gov.uk by searching “Right to Rent”.

12.0 Overseas Landlords (Finance Act 1995)

12.1 Whilst resident overseas, you may be considered non-resident for tax purposes, but UK tax remains payable on rents received in the UK under the provisions of Section 42A of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988.

12.2 You should apply to HMRC to seek consent to account for tax under self-assessment. Responsibility for obtaining approval to do so rests with you. The HMRC approval number should be provided to us prior to commencement of the Tenancy.

13.0 The Electrical Safety Standards in the Private Rented Sector (England) Regulations 2020

13.1 You are obliged to test the fixed electrical installations at the property every 5 years. The resultant test is an Electrical Installation Condition Report (EICR)

13.2 The tenant may seek evidence that the electrical installations have been tested within the 5 last years and you must provide them with an EICR.

13.3 An Electrical Installation Condition Report (EICR) is a report carried out to assess the safety of the existing electrical installation within a property and is used to describe its condition. Parts of the system that are reported on include consumer units, protective bonding, lighting, switches and sockets etc. Its purpose is to confirm as far as possible whether or not the electrical installation is in a safe condition for continued service.
